

Applied Technology, Inc.

I have a small business that works with researchers at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington DC. (I also have worked for many years in electro-optics and laser R&D.) We are looking for a person who may be soon receiving a BS or MS from your center. The areas for which we are looking for in a person include optics/image processing/software skills/lab experience. The person must be a U.S. citizen and qualify for a security clearance. Your group was recommended as a center of excellence in the areas that we need. If you have high quality students that may fit these criteria and may be interested to work at the Naval Research Lab in DC please have them contact me. Thanks for your assistance.
