

I will discuss the developing NewSpace industry from the perspective of Silicon Valley Investors. We are in the earliest stages of entrepreneurial commercial spaceflight. Many companies have pulled in initial investments of $10 - 20M with a few at the $200M+ level. Many good opportunities remain for innovative and market enabling technologies.